

Please do not drop the "do not call" list. Before this came along I got calls all day long, and I have a private number. This is the best thing that ever happened. Think of the disable people like me, it's a pain in the ass answering the phone all day. And when i'm having a bad day and dont feel well, I have to get up to answer the phone.